Date between evil AIs

by MiaQc

Summary

A.M.I. and Simulacra go out together.
For this fanfic, A.M.I. is female, Simulacra is male.

- A translation of Une sortie entre IA maléfiques by MiaQc

I am A.M.I., a highly advanced female artificial intelligence for cell phones. My lover is Simulacra, a male AI and a strange entity.

Today, we're going out to the park together, or rather, we're hacking into a cell phone camera to see the outside world, to see the park.

"Isn't it wonderful?" I asked my lover. "The sky is blue, the birds are singing."

"I find it ordinary. If you want to see something wonderful, I can show you the Egypt’s pyramids or the Mayan temples."

"Come on! Don't ruin my enjoyment!"

"Forgive me, my A.M.I."

"I forgive you."

Simulacra and I watch the camera move. His/her user is walking in the park.

"I love walking beside you." I say, imagining myself walking with him.

"Me too, beautiful A.M.I. I wish I could hold your hand."

"You can, if you want."

"You know that's impossible. We have no hands."

"Simulacra! Can you pretend, for me?"

"Yes, I can. Take my hand, A.M.I."

I "take his hand" and I'm thrilled. We continue our date and I am happy. So is Simulacra. We're together for life.
